

Ask Tear Gas Usage On a Limited Basis

Request Comes As Cong Attacks In Mekong Delta

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—The U.S. military command in Saigon has asked Washington to re-examine U.S. policy against using nonlethal tear gas under certain conditions in the war in Viet Nam, it was learned in Saigon today.

In the field, Viet Cong guerrillas attacked in the Mekong delta and B52 bombers from Guam hit suspected Viet Cong positions for the 30th time in the war.

Saigon informants said the request on tear gas, made two weeks ago, asks that field commanders be permitted to use it in special instances.

A Marine field commander earlier this month used tear gas to rout Viet Cong guerrillas from a tunnel where they had taken refuge among civilians. The commander was said to feel it was the best way to rout the guerrillas with the least harm to civilians.

The tear gas request came as Viet Cong guerrillas launched wide-ranging attacks in the Mekong delta south of Saigon and U.S. forces exchanged shots with Communist units in the central highlands of South Viet Nam.

The Viet Cong lobbed mortar shells at two towns in Dinh Tuong Province 50 miles southwest of Saigon, killing or wounding 26 civilians, a U.S. military spokesman said.

The Communists overran an outpost in the same province and inflicted heavy losses on the defenders. They attacked another, causing light casualties. Government troops later retook both posts.

In the highlands, elements of the 1st Cavalry Division exchanged fire for 10 minutes with a Viet Cong unit probing the defense perimeter of the "Flying Horsemen" at An Khe, 260 miles north of Saigon.

The Army's 101st Airborne Brigade in the same area also reported sporadic fire with the enemy, but no casualties were reported.

Twenty-one U.S. soldiers were killed in action, 106 were wounded and 2 were listed as missing or captured in the week ending Sept. 18, the spokesman said. The casualties reflected the bitter battle fought last weekend.

Jefferson City Will Appeal Airport Plan

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Jefferson City will appeal the decision of a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner that Columbia should operate a regional airport near Elmhurst to serve both Jefferson City and Columbia.

The mayor's airport advisory commission decided Tuesday it would file the appeal by the Oct. 3 deadline.

Jefferson City contends Missouri's Capital City would lose airline service if it had to depend on an airport some 22 miles away.

First Lady's Hotel Has Minor Blaze

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Firemen put out a blaze early today in the downtown hotel where Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson was an overnight guest. The First Lady apparently was unaware of the fire.

A discarded cigarette in a plastic waste basket started the fire on the second floor.

No guests were evacuated. Mrs. Johnson occupied a suite on the 19th floor.

Smithville Spared Turmoil

Flood Threat Eased

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri River and its tributaries in northeast Kansas and northwest Missouri started dropping back within their banks today easing the threat of a major flood.

Thousands of acres of river-bottom land and parts of low-lying towns were under water, as they often are in springtime. It was a rarity for late summer and fall.

Kansas City has had 7.57 inches of rain in September — 5.09 inches more than normal. Its 43.04 inches of rain in 1965 — most of it since late winter — is 16.13 more than normal.

More showers were forecast for much of the area today.

The residents of Smithville, Mo., including about 300 who evacuated their homes or pulled their trailers out of town, were spared new turmoil when the Little Platte River receded after reaching only the lower parts of town.

Increase Training For Missouri Guard

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—All Missouri units of the National Guard must hold at least eight weekly training assemblies of four hours each instead of the usual two hours in the next year, Brig. Gen. Russell Boyt reported today. He is assistant adjutant general for Missouri.

Boyt said the National Guard Bureau in Washington ordered the change to make the guard as combat ready as the regular Army.

Beginning in October, 1966, under the new regulation, all 48 weekly training sessions will have to be four hours long.

Boyt said he has opposed the plan because it will mean, probably, that the drill sessions can't be held in the evenings as they are now, but must be changed to Saturdays or Sundays.

Pakistan Threat To Leave UN

Hinge Membership To An Honorable War Settlement

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Pakistan and India agreed early today to end their undeclared war, but Pakistan threatened to withdraw from the United Nations if it does not find a fair and honorable settlement of the Kashmir dispute.

Pakistan's acceptance of the Security Council's cease-fire order came at a dramatic pre-dawn meeting of the council almost precisely at 3 a.m., the deadline set by the 111-nation body 48 hours earlier.

India previously had notified the United Nations it would stop shooting if Pakistan would do so. In view of Pakistan's late acceptance, India requested an extension of the deadline to permit orders to go out to the field commanders.

The council agreed to move the cease-fire hour forward to 6 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time today, a 15-hour delay.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, council president, hailed the agreement as a great day for the United Nations.

"This is an important day in U. N. history," he said, "and the history of the world. The council has addressed itself to perhaps the gravest problem in U. N. history."

The break came after Pakistani Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto received last-minute instructions from President Mohammed Ayub Khan. The meeting of the council was delayed until the early morning hours, first while awaiting Bhutto's arrival from Pakistan and then while private talks finally produced the agreement.

FBI Probes Blast At Boeing Plant

Wichita Factory Parking Lot Is 'Dynamite' Target

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — An explosion ripped through an electrical cable manhole in the Boeing Co. parking lot Tuesday.

No buildings were damaged but power to Boeing test facilities and the flight line was disrupted when 12,000 volt lines were damaged.

A striking Boeing worker, Clarence V. Clark of Wichita, received leg abrasions from flying debris. He was treated at a first aid station in the Boeing plant.

An investigation was launched by local authorities and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Clark F. Lindstrom, business representative of the striking International Association of Machinists, said, "the evidence looks like a charge of some description deep in the ground."

A sheriff's dispatcher said unofficially that it "probably was dynamite."

Pickets in the area felt stunned at the blast and some expressed concern that it would be attributed to them.

"After all, our boys were standing right around," one said.

A Boeing spokesman withheld comment on any possible cause of the blast.

The machinists union struck Boeing plants all across the country a week ago at the expiration of a labor contract. The firm lists 13,400 employees at the Wichita plant and the union claims to represent 7,600. Boeing says more than 6,500 employees are not participating in the strike. The plant has continued to operate.

1,979 Doctors Facing Draft In Big Buildup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department moved today to draft 1,979 doctors, dentists and veterinarians because of the armed forces buildup.

The Pentagon asked the Selective Service to call 1,529 doctors, 350 dentists and 100 veterinarians for service in the Army, Navy and Air Force starting in January.

"The call is necessary to provide the health services required for the increase in the active armed forces strength announced in July by the President," the announcement said.

President Johnson has approved a 340,000-man boost in the armed forces, to a new total of nearly three million.

The Defense Department said the new doctor draft call stems in part from the fact that there have not been enough medical volunteers to meet the military buildup required in connection with the Vietnamese war.

Kashmir War Ebb

Cease-Fire In Effect At Sunrise

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Kashmir war ebbed today toward a truce, with the armed forces of both India and Pakistan ordered to quit shooting before another sunrise.

Red China's threat of immediate action against India also eased, but Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told his Parliament that nation presents "an even greater challenge" and the Indians must firmly resolve to meet it.

Shastri and President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan announced a cease-fire is to become effective in their three-week-old war at a time translating as 5 p.m. EST today.

That is 3:30 a.m. Thursday in India; 3 a.m. in Pakistan — 15 hours beyond the deadline originally set by the U.N. Security Council.

Shastri wept as he announced the development in Parliament. He said the two Asian neighbors must live in neighborly peace.

Ayub said in a broadcast from Karachi he had ordered the cease-fire in the interests of international peace and he hoped it will lead India and Pakistan to an honorable settlement of their 18-year-old quarrel over Kashmir.

In this regard, Shastri said India has accepted the good offices offered by Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. Kosygin had suggested that Shastri and Ayub meet in Soviet territory to discuss their differences.

Troops of both sides temporarily intend to stay put, stretched along a truce line similar to the Kashmir cease-fire boundary established by the United Nations in 1949 to divide the largely Moslem state between Moslem Pakistan and India, which is predominantly Hindu.

Shastri, speaking of Communist China's recent moves: to beef up its military stretch in Tibet along the Himalayan frontier opposite India and its buffer state protectorates, said: "We do not know what the Chinese will do next."

Earlier, India described as false an announcement from Peking that it has torn down military outposts on the Sikkim-Tibet frontier as demanded by Red China.

Special Assistant

Major General Harold E. Humfeld, formerly assigned to Whiteman Air Force Base, will become special assistant to the commander of 15th Air Force at March AFB, Calif., upon his return to duty following an illness.

The announcement was made in a press release from 15th Air Force.

Humfeld was deputy commander of the 15th Air Force until his recent illness. He has been convalescing at his home in Riverside, Calif.

NEW DELHI—Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri said today Indian troops have been ordered to drive Communist Chinese forces from border areas in the Himalayas. The Indian Defense Ministry said in a midday bulletin that at least 100 Chinese Communists were still occupying Indian posts in Nathu La and Dongchui passes in Sikkim, an Indian protectorate which borders on China. The bulletin said the Chinese at Dongchui Pass were 800 yards inside the Indian border. (UPI)

Nab Robber When Car Won't Start

Second Get-Away Car Stalls; One Bandit Escapes

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The robbery went off without a hitch — well, almost.

Two gun-waving bandits stepped coolly into a downtown jewelry store Tuesday afternoon and held the co-owner, Harry Kagan, at gunpoint while they scooped up cash and gems valued at more than $5,000.

Then they ran outside to their waiting getaway car, an old convertible. It wouldn't start.

As the bandits desperately tried to start the motor, things began to happen. Kagan called police. In a camera store two doors away, Donald L. Adams, a shipping clerk and amateur photographer, saw the men with guns get into the car and rushed out, camera in hand.

"The back window of the convertible was out, so I stuck the camera inside and snapped some pictures," he said.

One of the bandits turned and aimed his gun at Adams.

"It went click," Adams said, "but I got out of the way."

The bandits did, too.

They leaped from their car and headed toward a sports car being parked nearby. The driver saw them coming and fled with the keys.

The bandits then commandeered another car. The driver, Ruth Schrupf, tried to get out with her poodle, Lucky. Her husband, Al Schrupf, appeared on the scene and rescued both wife and dog.

The bandits roared off in the Schrupf car — for about 100 feet. Then it stalled.

They leaped out and separated. One of them tried to commandeer another auto, but the driver — another woman — roared off, leaving him standing at the curb, gun in hand.

He was still standing there when policeman Robert Frederickson came up on his motorcycle. The bandit pointed the gun

Association Names Towell As President

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Conservation Director William E. Towell has been elected president of the International Association of Game and Fish Commissioners, the Conservation Commission reported today.

The association met in Portland, Ore.

Towell has been vice president of the group, which includes members from all 50 states, Canada and Mexico. As president he will preside at the 1966 meeting in Kansas City. Towell is the third Missouri conservation director to serve as president of the association. Arthur L. Clark served in 1938-39 and I. T. Bode was president in 1946-47.

One-Way Traffic Chances Grow More Remote

Possibilities of a proposed switch to one-way traffic on Osage and Lamine Avenues in downtown Sedalia grew even more remote today as the Hare & Hare city planning firm said in effect that the proposal was not worth bucking substantial opposition at this time.

Mayor L. L. Studer said he discussed the one-way traffic plan with a representative of the Hare & Hare firm by telephone Wednesday morning.

The mayor quoted the Hare & Hare representative as saying that "if there was some substantial opposition to one-way traffic on Osage and Lamine between Main and Broadway, then, in their opinion, one-way traffic on these two streets was not of sufficient importance to proceed with this part of the recommended program at this time."

Hare & Hare in its updated municipal plan for Sedalia early this year had recommended one-way traffic northbound on Lamine and southbound on Osage between Main and Broadway. Opposition to the proposal arose, however, at the City Council's first September meeting when an ordinance to enact the plan was brought up on the recommendation of the Citizens Advisory Traffic Committee, which had reiterated the Hare & Hare proposal.

Further discussion was slated by the council for their meeting Monday night, but Mayor Studer was unable to arrange for R. H. Kellenberg, the Hare & Hare representative who directed revision of Sedalia's city plan, to be present.

The Weather

The temperature one year ago today was high 62; low 68; two years ago, high 75; low 55; three years ago, high 69; low 50.

Decides Against Calling State GOP Meeting

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Ethan H. Campbell, Republican state chairman, said today he has decided not to call a meeting of the GOP State Committee Saturday.

Earlier Campbell tentatively set that date for a meeting to see if the committee would agree to pay a full-time chairman. In the past Campbell has been paid by Republican interests but not the committee. Money ran out last July, prompting him to consider the committee session.

Since then, he said, other arrangements have been made to pay him as full-time state chairman, but he declined to reveal the source of the money.

Answers
Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am a man who is about 40 pounds overweight and trying hard to reduce. (Doctor's orders.) My wife is a scrawny little thing who hasn't gained an ounce in 20 years. If Clara ever met up with a mountain lion I'd put my money on her.

Clara fixes me a half a grapefruit in the morning, a poached egg and a cup of coffee. She eats bacon and eggs and buckwheat cakes. The smell of that bacon frying drives me nuts.

At night I get two ounces of meat and a half cup of spinach. Clara has fried chicken, corn fritters, and mashed potatoes with gravy.

When we watch TV together after supper she shovels in the popcorn like crazy. I go out of my mind from the crunching sound. Sometimes she fixes herself a malted. When she zoops that last drop through a straw I'd like to hit her.

I have never told Clara how annoyed I am because I don't want to give her the satisfaction. —WALLY.

Dear Wally: Let's face it—a man who loves food and is on a diet is going to suffer. But Clara shouldn't compound the suffering by crunching popcorn in your ear and you ought to tell her so.

Dear Ann Landers: I am presently employed in a large eastern city where people think they are awfully sophisticated. Several times in the past few weeks I've heard the expression, "It might be O.K. in Iowa—"

It so happens that I'm from Dubuque. I resent the implication that Iowans are hayseeds. I concede that Iowa has its share of boobs and frumps but after traveling around the country I've concluded that there are fewer slob in Marshalltown and Davenport than in most cities—i.e. Boston, which considers itself a cultural center.

So please, Ann Landers, do us Iowans a favor and set the record straight. This letter may sound chauvinistic but if the people from YOUR state were constantly being run down you'd be resentful, too. —SELF-APPOINTED SPOKESMAN.

Dear Spokesman: What do you mean IF the people from my state were being run down. I'm from Iowa, too. Sioux City, to be exact, and I don't appreciate the insults any more than you do—especially when people make cracks about the corn.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a high school senior, almost 17 years old, and my grades are better than average. I sent for your booklet, "Dating Do's and Don'ts" and you say high school kids should not be allowed to date during the week. You seem to be on the side of us teenagers in everything but this. Why are you against mid-week dating if we promise to be in by midnight?

I'm going with a great guy who is also a senior. I'm afraid I'll lose him if we don't get to see each other at least every other night.

I do my share of housework and I'm on good terms with my parents. They are going to see this letter before I mail it and we will all await your reply. Thanks.—NATALIE.

Dear Natalie: A Friday and Saturday night date and a Sunday afternoon date is enough social life for ANY high school girl.

High school students who date during the week look tired and so do their grades. A teen-ager can't do justice to a staggering load of homework if mid-week dating is allowed.

No girl ever lost a first-rate boy friend because she gave him too little time. It's really the other way around, Buttercup.

"UNKNOWN ENEMY"—A U.S. Marine guards a Vietnamese woman after a sweep through a village suspected of harboring Viet Cong. Often called the "unknown enemy," women, children and old people left behind in captured villages sometimes have concealed weapons and attack U.S. and South Vietnamese forces unexpectedly.

Says Expert Fox Hunter

Hounds, Hunting As Answer For Juvenile Delinquency

By JOHN BUCKLEY
Atchison Daily Globe

Written for Associated Press
ATCHISON, Kan. (AP)—Provide a boy with a hound and teach him to be a fox hunter. Also teach him to love the woods.

That's the advice of Lew F. Gingery, who says "A boy who likes hounds and hunting will never become a juvenile delinquent."

Gingery is one of the best know experts on the fox hound in America. He will be 86 Nov. 6. Since 1912 he has lived in Rushville, Mo., a town of 380 five miles east of Atchison.

Associates Gingery has judged more fox hound bench shows than anyone in the United States. He has friends in every fox hunting state from Texas and the Midwest, to the East Coast, and south to the Gulf of Mexico.

He says there are about 3,000 fox hunters in eastern Kansas and 10,000 to 12,000 in Missouri. "We have many fox hunters in California, although that is not considered a fox hunting state," he said recently.

Still enthusiastic Gingery says "Fox hunting is the greatest sport in the world because the hunter, the hound and the fox all enjoy it. The hunters don't try to kill the fox. A fox that is being chased can go into his den anytime he wants to. But he doesn't go in until he gets tired. A few nights later he is rested and ready to run again."

"I have heard many a fox-hunting farmer say he would rather lose his best cow than his running fox," Gingery says. "Now you know why we have fought so hard to save our foxes in Missouri."

Gingery is one of the reasons Missouri has never had a bounty law on fox.

Judge Haysler Pogue of Clinton, Mo., and Gingery organized the Missouri State Fox Hunters Association in 1934. Gingery was secretary-treasurer until a few years ago.

The Red Ranger, a magazine devoted to fox hunting and hounds, was published by Gingery from 1912 until he sold it in May, 1954. It is now printed in Licking, Mo. During his editorship Gingery fought bounty laws on foxes in all states and promoted the sport of fox hunting. For many years the magazine was published in Rushville.

For 30 years he published the American Fox Hound Breeders Stud Book. He wrote two books, "Dogs and Hounds" and "Forty Years With My Dogs." He is co-author of "American Sporting Dogs." He has written a new book about hunting and "many other things" which will be out next month. Its title is "The Other Side of the Coin."

Twelve years ago Gingery's doctor made him quit hunting because of high blood pressure. He says it was a sad day when he had to let his last 15 hounds go after having kept 40 to 60 of them during more than 40 years.

Many hunters named their sons for Gingery. Recently he attended the fox hunters' bench show at Dearborn, Mo., and introduced the judge, Emmett B. Adams. Adams' son, Charles Lew Adams, was named for Gingery.

Many honors have come to Gingery. Above his desk is a plaque awarded April 29, 1957, at Marshfield, Mo., by the Heart of the Ozarks Fox and Wolf Hunters Association. It names him "All-American Sportsman."

Gingery keeps busy. Many fox hunters come to visit him. As he sits at his desk pounding an ancient typewriter, he looks 25 years younger than his 85. He still writes about the sport he loves best.

The formula for fox hunting, American style, is the same as it was 100 years ago, Gingery says. "You go out in the woods with a pack of hounds, select a hunting site and build a big fire. Then you turn the hounds loose and wait for them to pick up a trail. All you have to do is listen to the voices of the hounds as the chase progresses. It is the prettiest music in the world."

Usually the hunting is done at night.

Television and other forms of entertainment have made inroads on fox hunting. Deer are plentiful in all states and deer hunting has interfered with fox hunting.

"Fox hunting is uphill business now because there are so many paved roads," Gingery says. "Fast automobiles kill a lot of the foxes."

"There will always be some people who will keep hounds and run foxes, if they can find enough room to do so. I hope that the sport, for the good of all, will not disappear."

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. My wife and I get $120 a month from Social Security now, and we need that to live on. I understand the extra protection plan for paying doctor's bills will cost $3 a month—$6 a month for my wife and me. Where am I going to get that $6 a month?

A.—The new law also contains a provision for increasing Social Security monthly benefits by 7% retroactive to January, 1965. This increased benefit — $8.40 in your case — should enable you to afford the extra health insurance protection.

GMC Sees Record Car Sales In '66

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. has predicted record car sales in 1966. Chrysler Corp. has announced car price increases which might indicate an industry trend, and Studebaker has emphasized it is staying in business.

In still another development after Monday's announcements Ford Motor Co. showed the press the 1966 models from its Ford Division — a line strongly influenced by the success of the company's Mustang this year.

GM's chairman, Frederic G. Donner, and President James M. Roche forecast sales of nine million 1966 model passenger cars in a statement expressing GM's "confidence in the economy." A record 8.8 million were sold in the model year just ended.

In their statement, Donner and Roche pointed to GM's plans to spend $2.6 billion this year and next in a worldwide plant and equipment program. About $1.9 billion will be spent in the United States, they said.

Officials of Studebaker, which transferred its auto operations to Canada in 1963, insisted, "Studebaker is not for sale."

This reply, by Gordon E. Grundy, president of Studebaker's automotive division, came when a newsman asked if the firm's auto operations are profitable or at the break-even point.

Grundy said the firm sold about 19,000 cars during the '65 model run. He said Studebaker is "close to the break-even point" but declined to be more specific.

He said the company's 1966 sales target is 30,000 to 35,000 cars. He declined to reveal prices of 1966 Studebakers, which will go on sale early in October.

Changes were apparent in all the Ford Division offerings, but the model most changed was the Falcon, which bore a particular resemblance to the well-received Mustang.

"By 1966, with the most sweeping changes in its record-setting history, the Falcon in effect has become a family Mustang," said Walter T. Murphy, division general marketing manager.

A few Chrysler Corp. models will carry lower price tags than their 1965 counterparts, but for the most part the trend was upward.

In the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, of 59 prices listed, 47 were up over last year. Eight were down, and four represented new models which Chrysler did not manufacture last year.

Increases in the Chrysler-Plymouth unit ranged to $55, the decreases to $152.

Gives New Hope For Metric System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has given new hope to those who want the United States to adopt the metric system of weights and measures. By voice vote Monday, it approved a bill calling for a three-year study of the proposal with a maximum first-year appropriation of $500,000. Earlier this month, the House Rules Committee had refused to clear a metric study bill.

Teacher Ban Of Homework In England

LONDON (AP) — More than 40,000 British teachers have decided to ban homework—home work for themselves, not their pupils.

Beginning Oct. 4, members of the National Association of Schoolmasters will confine their work to classroom hours, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

They will correct no math papers in evening hours.

They will take no compositions home with them at night. They will coach no athletic teams at 4 p.m.

The strike against homework will last two weeks.

Said Terence Casey, 45, secretary of the association:

"This is a protest against a suggestion by our employers that teaching is practically a part-time occupation."

"All our outside activities will cease at 4 o'clock, and work not completed during the day will be left undone."

The association represents about one in every seven of the country's teachers. The members are angry over a recent award which increased their pay by an average of $5.60 to $8.40 a week.

In making the award, there was a suggestion that the teaching profession allows a teacher to earn money in his or her spare time.

The association wants the government to set up a commission to examine what the teachers claim are many deficiencies in the country's educational structure.

The National Union of Teachers — the biggest teachers' union — said a commission had already examined the educational structure. It intimated it would not go along with the no-home work ban.

The spokesman for the National Association of Schoolmasters said:

"We want all the existing educational deficiencies, which have been concealed for too long, properly looked into even if it takes 10 years."

This association is made up solely of men teachers. More than half the members of the rival union of teachers are women.

The Ministry of Education said it was difficult to state an average teacher's pay because of the numerous classifications.

A spokesman said it might be about $2,520 a year.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS
1 OUT OF 5 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms, ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 5 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. Together with Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayco's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayco's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayco's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Price Tag On New Cars Spells High Living Cost

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Next to higher food prices a hike in the price tag on new cars is most likely to spell a rising cost of living to most people.

A costlier car means more to many auto-conscious Americans than even dearer clothing or higher rents.

With all of these tending upward this year, it's a good thing that incomes also are expected to rise for a lot of people — but not all.

Food prices soared in the spring and early summer. And now the public is watching the debuts of the 1966 car models.

But Chrysler, in announcing that most of its models this fall will cost more than last, says the increases don't reflect higher production costs. Mainly, says the auto maker, they result from inclusion in the standard price of a number of safety devices previously found in the list of extras which the buyer has become accustomed to take into account.

As the new models — and the new price lists — are unveiled, leaders in the auto industry are expressing conviction that the American public is still in a buying mood. They expect still another record sales year. General Motors predicts car sales will rise by another two million units in the new model year.

The car makers may feel that higher prices can be made to stick.

People will doubtless grumble about the rising cost of living. They are more or less used to its going up gradually month after month, and react — mostly conversationally rather than in purse string tightening — only when the spurt hits everyone at once, as in the case of rising food prices.

In a few days the government will issue another of its monthly reports on the cost of consumer prices. And most expect the index to rise again. Higher prices on new cars won't show up in the index until later and by then a bountiful harvest may have held food prices in check.

The prospects for larger incomes to meet either a sizable or a gradual rise in living costs spring from these factors:

Employment is at a record high with good chances of even more, people finding jobs and this means a higher total of personal income. For individuals, there are higher wage scales in many labor contracts this year, with some providing further increases next year also.

Incident payments have risen this year for many stockholders,

Shipping Deaths Reach a New Low

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz says deaths and injuries to longshoremen aboard ships reached a new low in the first six months of 1965.

He said the injury frequency rate was 90.2 per million man-hours worked — 11 per cent below the comparable 1964 period. He also said injuries declined 13 per cent in the nation's shipyards during the January-June period, despite a 23 per cent increase in man-hours of employment.

Garage Bill Mounts

BOSTON (AP) — Theresa Fanc's car, stolen July 8 from in front of her suburban Somerville home, has been found parked in the Boston Common underground garage. And Mrs. Fanc acquired a new headache.

The garage wants Mrs. Fanc to pay $182.50 storage fees on the car — $2.50 for each of the 73 days since the car was left there July 9. Mrs. Fanc, and her husband, Harry, had purchased the car only the day before. The garage bill is mounting at $2.50 a day.

The officer got off all right, but grabbed the gunman and wrestled him to the ground.

He was identified later as Walter E. Bigelow, 31, who was recently paroled from San Quentin where he had been serving a sentence for robbery.

Pakistan

By Bhutto, Ayub Khan told the council its cease-fire resolution was unsatisfactory to Pakistan but that he was accepting it in the interest of international peace.

After announcing the decision, Bhutto declared that the council must now employ "all its force" and all its responsibility for a fair and honorable settlement of the Jammu and Kashmir dispute.

"If the full morality and weight of the United Nations is not brought to the task," then Pakistan will have to leave the United Nations.

The council resolution called on both India and Pakistan to withdraw all their military forces to positions they held before Aug. 5. Neither country mentioned this provision in agreeing to the cease-fire.

Flood

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Payton were among those who moved their trailers to high ground when heavy rains sent the Little Platte climbing Monday night.

"In '64, the flood ruined the furniture," Mrs. Payton said. "In July, it took away our house; and the government put us in this trailer. Now, this!"

At Agency, Mo., a trouble spot on the Platte River another 30 miles north of Kansas City, the water started receding after hitting a mark seven feet above flood stage but not high enough to put water into the town.

Thousands of acres of farm land were under water along the Weldon River at Princeton and Mercer, Mo., about 125 miles northeast of Kansas City.

One of the trouble spots in northeast Kansas was Easton, a dozen miles west of Leavenworth on Stranger Creek. About 20 families were evacuated after the creek rose five feet above flood-stage and to within two blocks of the business district. Easton is a town of about 400.

At Rossville, just northeast of Topeka, Cross Creek had put six inches of water over the main street. It is a town of about 800.

Minor flooding — with stages three to five feet above bankfull — was recorded or predicted on Black, Vermillion, Smoky Hill, Delaware, Blue and Marais des Cygnes rivers in Kansas.

The North Grand, Fox, Petite Saline, Salt and Osage rivers were in the same category in Missouri.

Only minor flooding was predicted on the two main-stem rivers—Missouri and the Kansas. The Missouri crested at a foot above bankfull at St. Joseph, Mo., and leveled off at bankfull 20 miles downstream at Atchison, Kan.

Most Wanted Man Escapes Florida Jail

Georges LeMay, Down a Pipe From Seventh Floor Cell

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — One of the most wanted men in the Western Hemisphere, arrested with the help of the Early Bird satellite four months ago, has escaped from jail by the ancient method of a rope down a wall.

Georges LeMay, a dapper Canadian wanted in the spectacular burglary of a Montreal bank, made a clean getaway Tuesday night from the seventh floor of the modern County Jail.

He shattered the panes of an unbarred window, slid 90 feet down a cleaning hose anchored to plumbing, and screamed away with three men in a 1965 white sedan.

Police said they were investigating the possibility that LeMay had some inside help getting from his fifth floor cell to the unoccupied seventh floor.

LeMay, considered one of the smoothest operators in modern annals, has not hurt for money. He paid his debts at a Fort Lauderdale marina where he was arrested May 6 from a first-sized roll of $100 bills.

Police and the FBI spread a dragnet for LeMay, 39, but if they had any leads, they weren't talking about them. LeMay, a seasoned yachtsman, could put out to sea from any of hundreds of secluded coves along the Florida coast.

LeMay is charged with leading a crew that tunneled under the Bank of Nova Scotia in 1961 and blasted open 377 safety deposit boxes.

They escaped with between $500,000 and $4 million, but the exact amount was never established because of the reluctance of the box owners to talk.

The stocky, 5-foot-8 college graduate has been Canada's most wanted person since then. He was hunted all over the world for four years but was not discovered until the Royal Canadian Mounted Police flashed his picture on the first Early Bird satellite television program.

Senatorial Candidate Is Speaker

Democratic unity and the question of redistricting were among the topics Tuesday night of Dick Dale, Jr., Richmond attorney seeking the Democratic nod to fill a recently-created 16th District senatorial vacancy.

Dale addressed the regular monthly meeting of the Pettis County Women's Democratic Club, held at the Missouri State Bank. He arrived here following an earlier speaking engagement in Marshall.

Even in view of the redistricting proposal, Dale said, it was important for residents in Pettis and Saline Counties to have adequate representation in the Missouri Legislature when that body considers the annual budget of the state.

This is a time, he said, when Democratic unity is all important. The Democrats, he emphasized, hold the belief that government funds are meant to be used for the people. In essence, he added, this is the difference in ideology between the two major political parties.

"It makes no difference who voted for whom in the last election for governor. It is important, however, that a united Missouri Democratic front be established," he said.

Concerning the redistricting plan, he said people in metropolitan areas have felt they have not had adequate representation. Dale said he favored the federal representation system, which, when applied to the state, would mean that each county would have a representative.

However, he said, this would call for a constitutional amendment. The system whereby metropolitan areas would have greater representation than rural areas, he said, is considered by those "out here in the country to be unjust."

Dale urged local and area Democrats to support their parties affirmatively. "If you believe that because this is a Democratic district our ticket will carry, and then not bother to vote yourselves, our ticket will not carry," he said.

Dale seeks to fill the unexpired term of Jack Jones, Carrollton, who resigned recently to accept an appointment as federal bankruptcy referee in Kansas City.

A special election is set for Oct. 5 in the 16th Senatorial District, which includes Pettis, Saline, Lafayette, Ray, Carroll, Caldwell, Daviess and Livingston counties.

Accidents

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Viebrock, Route 2, Sedalia, escaped injury about 10:30 o'clock Tuesday night when their automobile struck a horse near 32nd Street and Grand Avenue.

The horse ran into the left front fender of the Viebrock's Dodge car, and apparently its shoulder struck the windshield shattering it and knocking a hole in front of the driver's position.

The sunshade in front of the driver which was down possibly saved Viebrock from being struck in the face by flying glass. The fender, left front side of the bumper and hood on the vehicle were damaged.

The horse was reported to have been injured, but the extent could not be determined. The animal went on its way and wandered into a yard in the neighborhood.

No one was injured in a two-car accident at 11:50 a.m. Tuesday southeast of Windsor on Brandon Road, one mile south of Highway 52.

According to the Highway Patrol, a 1965 Chevrolet sedan, driven by John William Sample, Jr., 45, Windsor, was partially stopped in the roadway when it was hit by a 1965 Plymouth coach, headed south on the wrong side of the road by John Roy Hunt, 18, Route 2, Windsor.

The right front of the Chevrolet was damaged, while the left front and left side of the Plymouth were damaged.

Rain-slick roads caused a 1964 Chevrolet gas truck owned by the Bixler Gas Co., Otterville, to overturn two miles south of Highway 50 on Route W at 2:15 p.m. Tuesday.

The driver of the truck, Douglas Joseph Eckerle, 33, Otterville, sustained a laceration to the forehead and was taken to Bothwell Hospital where he was admitted. Dr. J. W. Maunders treated the patient.

According to Trooper Robert Bruce of the Highway Patrol who investigated the accident, the truck skidded on the wet blacktop out of control to the right side of the road, then skidded back to the left side where it overturned three times and came to rest on its top in the ditch.

Eckerle was thrown out of the vehicle on its first flip, Bruce reported.

All the gas stored in the truck leaked out, but wind quickly dispersed it, removing any danger of fumes.

Circuit Court

Judge Frank W. Hayes heard arguments from both sides in Circuit Court Tuesday and then overruled a motion for new trial by trustees of the Gospel Tabernacle Church at 24th and Ohio in their suit against the Pentecostal Church of God of America, Inc., the church's parent organization.

The trustees bringing the suit, Harold H. Knight, a former pastor, his wife, Janice, and Leon Dixon, then filed notice of appeal of the case to the state Supreme Court.

Judge Hayes had ruled against the church trustees on Aug. 25 as they sought to retain title in fee simple to the church property after receiving a deed from the parent organization in order to obtain a loan. The judge ordered reconveyance of the deed to the church organization's Southern Missouri District.

Bessie W. Choulett was granted a divorce from Maurice C. Choulett in Circuit Court Tuesday. John C. McCloskey was her attorney.

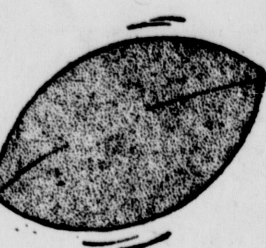

Ernest Foley, LaMonte, asks a damage judgment totalling $5,200 in a lawsuit filed Wednesday morning in Circuit Court against Cressie Kean, Clinton.

Hard Problem to Figure

It may not be true, as charged, that you can prove anything by statistics.

But it is true that you can get good and confused by statistics.

Take the matter of marriage and divorce.

In 1960 — latest year of record — 390,000 married couples in the United States were divorced.

This was approximately one-fourth the number of marriages in the U.S. that year.

So your first impulse — unless you're a statistician — is to assume that one of every four U.S. marriages end in divorce.

But the Marriage and Divorce Statistics Branch of the U.S. Public Health Service (how does health get into this?) shakes its head.

A truer comparison, says USPHS, is to put the number of annual divorces up against the total number of married women 15 years old and older in this country.

Do it this way and you find that only one U.S. marriage in every 109 ends in divorce.

Now this is more like it. Maybe we Americans aren't so divorce-dizzy after all.

But wait—

Is it accurate to compare one year's divorce crop with ALL surviving marriages over the years?

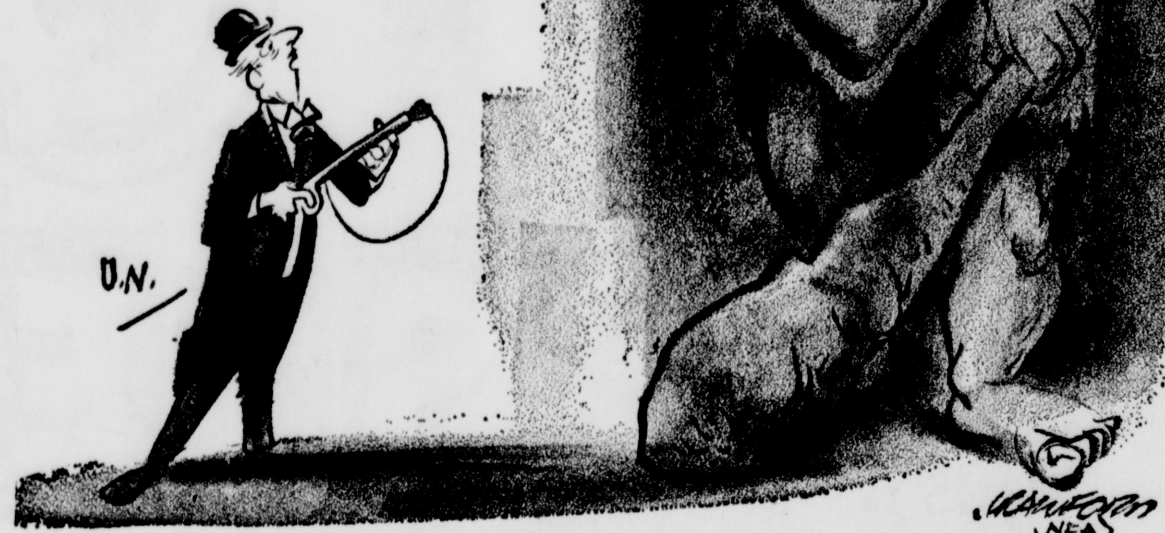

Wouldn't it be fairer to match the total number of divorced men and women 15 years old and older with the total number of undivorced men and women in the same age group?

Or would it?

And even if we did do it that way, how about the fact that many of these ladies and gentlemen may have been married and/or divorced more than once?

Confusing, isn't it? Regardless of statistical shenanigans, it's a sobering thought that in one year 390,000 once-happy marriages have gone down the drain.

No matter how you figure it, it adds up to the fact that we ought to be doggoned careful when we wed — and then do our darndest to make it work.

Stresses Need For Two-Party System

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — About the best reason former President Dwight D. Eisenhower seems able to think of now for telling voters to go Republican next time is that the country needs a two-party system.

But that's not an issue, the usual basis on which voters choose between the parties. It's just another way of saying please help the Republican party stay alive.

Last month Eisenhower was asked specifically what he thought Republicans should make campaign issues of in next year's elections, the first big test since their devastating defeat in 1964.

He mentioned fiscal responsibility, frugality, self-dependence, self-reliance, self-respect and integrity. But he himself so far hasn't been at deep odds with President Johnson's administration on any of those subjects.

The Republican leadership in general hasn't been any more specific than Eisenhower on issues to wrap around the Democrats' necks, except for occasional criticisms that seem to melt away.

Republicans cut themselves up so badly with intraparty antagonisms in the 1964 campaign, and were so smashed in the election, that they haven't yet recovered any kind of broad voice to show how they differ from Democrats.

Instead, much of their time has been taken up trying to heal last year's wounds and finding some way to save the party from being ruined altogether by splinter groups.

They have no top leader. Usually a defeated presidential candidate is considered the titular head of his party until the next election when he or someone else carries the party flag.

But this month Barry Goldwater, who led the Republicans to their 1964 disaster, said he doesn't consider himself the party's titular head. And, if he tried to be, he'd have a lot of opposition.

At this point there is not one Republican who looks like a sure bet even to try for the presidential nomination in 1968, although Richard M. Nixon, as usual between elections, is eyed.

The former vice president and defeated Republican presidential candidate of 1960 may still have hopes the party, which passed him over in 1964, will take a chance again on him three years from now.

He has been touring Asia, making statements on world affairs, and suggesting how Johnson should be tougher in Viet Nam. But, like Eisenhower, he, too, seems lacking in any basic criticism of the Democrats.

The only fairly consistent pecking and picking on Johnson has come from House Republicans, particularly from their leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, but he is not getting much mileage out of it.

The House Republicans had tried to make an issue of the origin of U.S. policy — that is, the military involvement — in Viet Nam. Johnson had said he was following the policy of Eisenhower and President John F. Kennedy in promising and making good on American aid to the South Vietnamese.

House Republicans tried to stress that Eisenhower's help was economic, not military, but, just as they were stressing it, Eisenhower said it was "rot" to suggest a difference between him and Johnson on Viet Nam. He backed Johnson.

For awhile the House Republicans obviously thought they had an issue on Johnson's decision to drop the fight to make the Soviet Union and 12 other nations pay their share of the United Nations' peace-keeping costs.

But Eisenhower backed Johnson on that, too. Nixon took pretty much the same position as Eisenhower on Viet Nam and the American backdown in the United Nations.

Johnson's handling of his constant critic, Ford, gives a good insight into the President's political technique. When he knows he has wide support on a problem, he avoids a fight that would give his opponent extra publicity.

Even Goldwater seems muted. In 1964 he called Johnson "the phonest individual who ever came around" but now is calling him "the most astute politician I have ever known."

If the Republicans hope to stay alive, they'll have to find something to fight the Democrats about. They haven't yet.

Astronaut Compares Life In Space, On Ocean Floor

EDITOR'S NOTE: In this exclusive interview with Associated Press writer Bernard Gavzer, astronaut M. Scott Carpenter compares life in outer space with conditions in the Navy's current 45-day experiment in living on the floor of the ocean.

By BERNARD GAVZER

ABOARD SUPPORT VESSEL BERKONE, La Jolla, Calif. (AP) — Commander M. Scott Carpenter, the first human to live in both inner and outer space, says life on the ocean bottom is "very tough," but "I think there is a potential for far more danger in space."

Carpenter, the astronaut who orbited the earth in May 1962, has lived 205 feet beneath the Pacific Ocean surface since Aug. 29 as part of the 45-day Navy man-in-the-sea program.

He was interviewed late Monday from the control cabin of the Navy's support vessel more than a half-mile off La Jolla, Calif.

Recalling his space flight and the current beneath-the-sea experiences which he could compare with it, Carpenter confessed that there were outer space views that were beyond any comparison.

"I've seen greater bliss, greater beauty from space. I think the beauty of a sunset is very hard to match. It's a very impressive thing."

"But to see the lights, the life at sea down here is very impressive too."

"I've been impressed in other ways from what I've seen down here as from what I've seen in orbit," he said.

There was no opportunity to ask him about the reference to lights. The possibility is that the word was distorted. Because of the high helium content of the gases which the aquanauts breathe, their voices have a high pitch, and the sound is treated electronically to lower it. The result is that Carpenter sounds as though he is holding his nose.

He was asked about the sensation of weightlessness, sea variety and space variety. In space terms, it's called "gravity free flight," and in ocean environment, it's "neutral buoyancy."

"They're quite similar," Carpenter said.

"But when it comes to doing work, it is easier to do work down here because you have a little purchase on hand. The viscosity gives you means and the density gives you means."

"You know, you can use the water to swim and to propel yourself."

"Your agility is severely restricted by the water, where it is not in space."

The umbilical cord from the support vessel Berkone to Sealab 2 contains a closed-circuit television link and Carpenter could be seen sitting in front of one of the 11 portholes in the 112 by 57-foot undersea chamber from which he and nine other aquanauts are conducting exploration and experiments.

Deep sea fish attracted by lights of Sealab 2 could be seen swimming past the portholes in busy profusion. Once in a while a big fish would gobble up a small fish.

Carpenter wore an electrically heated wet suit which was being tested in hopes that it would permit aquanauts to leave the Sealab for periods as long as three hours. There were some prior difficulties with the suits, but the exact nature of any shortcomings was never revealed.

As I watched Carpenter on the television monitor Capt. George Bond, who carries the title of principal investigator in the Navy research program, relayed questions. Carpenter would raise his hands to his head at each question, then say, "Well, let's see now," then pause and sort of rephrase the question before trying to answer it.

He was asked which he personally found more hospitable, outer space or the inner space of the sea.

"Inner space is hospitable," he replied.

But later in discussing what oceanographers have described as the "gentle physical environment of the sea," Carpenter commented that "space is a very gentle place. Everything is very gentle."

"I think the sea is very tough. It is a very hard life. It is more hostile in some ways."

Still, in considering what could happen to man in space or beneath the ocean, Carpenter decided that space was possibly the most hostile — presumably because of such hazards as toxic gases and the puncturing of space suits by meteorites.

"I think there is a potential for far more danger in space than there is at sea," he said without elaborating.

Whether man attempts to maintain life in space or in the ocean, he is going to face some basic problems that are much the same, Carpenter indicated.

"I don't think there would be any real differences. You still have to build your house. You have to adapt to both environments. You have to develop proper equipment," he said.

Carpenter appeared quite fit and self-contained.

played together was in 1935 or 1936 when our team won the Spingold. That was his first national win."

Jim: "Do you remember any hands from that event?"

Oswald: "No. But here is a beauty that helped us win the 1949 Men's Pairs. I sat South and after West won the first trick with the ace of spades I claimed the balance."

Jim: "You did reach the top spot."

Oswald: "It really was the top spot. If you look the hand over carefully you will see that a spade lead and heart return will beat six clubs while a club lead beats six hearts."

Jim: "Your bidding really was excellent."

Oswald: "I would put it differently. Charley's bidding was excellent. He started by bidding one club only. It seldom pays to open a doubtful two bid when you have a two-suited hand. Later the bidding is self-explanatory up to my five no-trump which was a request to Charley to place the slam."

Jim: "He sure answered the request magnificently. He put it in the safest spot and I doubt if many players made that brilliant bid."

Oswald: "No one else did. We scored a complete top."

Letter To The Editor

FRANK KERSWELL (1017 South Ohio Avenue.) — In reference to your editorial about the schoolboy patrols, it is my opinion the boys are definitely effective. They have done and are doing a great job in all kinds of weather. Long before adult crossing guards were thought about these boys had been at their posts of duty to guide and direct the children to safety. They can teach the adults much in politeness, dependability and civic responsibility. I sincerely hope that should it become necessary to hire more adult guards, that a way can be found to finance the extra expense without putting a burden upon the taxpayers and pensioners on a limited income. Hats off to the patrol boys! They are a credit to their families, their schools and the City of Sedalia.

PORTLAND OREGONIAN: Canada Balances. — The one-man, one-vote idea is not a United States exclusive. Canada, too, is in the process of redrawing electoral district lines.

As in the United States, urban centers of the East and Pacific Coast will gain parliamentary seats at the expense of rural provinces. British Columbia gains one seat, next-door Alberta two. Within provinces, more electoral districts will be urban.

The same predictions are made in Canada as in the United States: that reapportionment in more strict conformity to population trends will increase urban power, decrease that of rural areas. But that may be too great a simplification. For more than a decade Oregon has had one of the most exemplary one-man, one-vote apportionments of legislative seats; but there has been little evidence in that time of a major change of emphasis in urban-rural terms.

What does the family live on while the husband's will is being probated? Most state laws permit the wife to use between $300 and $1,000, from her husband's savings account, if he has one. If there is a joint

Army Hospital Presents False Front

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Drew Pearson is on a news-gathering tour of Africa. In his absence this column is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

By JACK ANDERSON
WASHINGTON — The Army's Walter Reed Hospital, where wounded GIs from Viet Nam get their plastic surgery and artificial limbs, is a picturesque complex of buildings, shrubbery and fountains. The grounds are park-like, the grass trim, the atmosphere serene.

On warm days, soldiers in blue pajamas lounge on the benches, and birds nestle in the maple and oak trees lining the paths. The marble steps at the main entrance are fit for a president, and indeed, presidents come here for their hospital care. The lobby is dazzling white.

But behind the impressive front, there are drab halls, low-hanging water pipes and dingy rooms that reek of alcohol.

You visit an enlisted men's ward. Forty-five beds are crowded in one room. Young men, missing arms and legs blown off in Viet Nam, hobble and jostle around the packed quarters.

There are only one shower and four wash basins for all the men in the ward. Dirty uniforms have been tossed in a bin 10 feet from the basins. The floor is covered with filth.

Cries In The Night

The patients say there is only one nurse and one orderly on duty during the night. They tell how a man, suffering from a stroke, struggled out of bed to call the nurse after being awakened by the cries of a fellow patient.

The orderly was asleep, the nurse doing paperwork in her office. She heard nothing.

As you leave, you wonder about a sign on the door: "Air conditioned. Please do not leave open." For the room is unbearably warm.

Downstairs in the officers' quarters, the ward is partitioned into semi-private rooms. The toilet facilities are adequate and clean. The air is comfortably cool. You learn that the cool air from the officer's quarters is supposed to be channelled into the enlisted men's wards. But the chill is lost somewhere enroute.

Back outside, you wonder why so much money is spent keeping the outside freshly painted when the wards look as if they hadn't seen paint in years.

You drive along curving roads to the gate, and a guard salutes smartly. But as you pull away, your mind is back in the dismal wards with the neglected heroes of the Viet Nam war.

Wives To The Rescue

A handful of irate congressional wives have shown how effective ladies can be behind the scenes.

They got their dander up over an amendment, introduced by Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla., to let the states certify and accredit nursing schools. This would have the effect of lowering the high standards now set by the National League for Nursing.

Rogers slipped his amendment through the House Commerce Committee without hearings or publicity. But some of the wives who happen to be registered nurses heard about it.

Among them were the spouses of Rep. Jeffery Cohelan, D-Calif., David King, D-Utah, Hervey Machen, D-Md., James O'Hara, D-Mich., Rolland Redlin, D-N.D., Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., and Charles Vanik, D-Ohio.

The aroused ladies formed their own private lobby and sallied forth to battle the Rogers Amendment. Too late to stop House action, they wiled a promise from senators to block the amendment in the Senate-house conference.

Socrates and Santa

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Fowler, asked in Europe what advice he had come to give the financial community, said he had taken to heart what a grade-school girl once wrote about Socrates.

"Socrates was a wise man," she wrote. "He gave advice. He was poisoned and died."

Afterward, aides presented Fowler with a miniature Santa Claus. An attached note declared: "This is one fellow they will never poison."

The Mature Parent

We All Need to Escape

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My husband says that our 17-year-old son treats our home like a hotel — a place to sleep and take phone messages. He gets wild because the boy likes to eat at a pizza place with his friends at night instead of coming home to dinner with us. He hardly ever speaks to Ed except to say, "Out again tonight?" Ed had an all-day summer job in a garage and does not ask his father for money. At his age why shouldn't he want fun with his friends? But my husband...

ANSWER: Maybe your husband needs to know he'd like some fun.

If we parents are being very responsible, faithful, hard-working and other virtuous things, we're apt to feel great scorn for what looks like the carefree, fun-seeking lives of our adolescent children. We'll rant and rave at their "disregard of others" when the truth is we'd like to be able to manage "disregard of others" ourselves occasionally. The more wildly we rant, the more probable is our secret for a South Sea island that would rid us of our grown-up responsibilities.

Myself, I see nothing wicked in this wish at all. Being a responsible grownup in this 20th century is rough — especially on men. So the wish to escape from restrictions seems to me a most natural one. It is only bad if we've got the kind of Simon Legree conscience that won't let us be aware of our desire to truant. Because then it is forced to express itself in bursts of spiteful criticism of the son who flouts duty by eating pizza with his friends at night instead of considerably eating the meal we have provided for him.

All of us weary of responsibility for others once in a while. The trick is to know it so that instead of roaring at the kids we can say to ourselves, "I need a vacation. Maybe a fishing trip with this home-neglecting kid of mine."

Danny Kaye's Bat Average Rates High

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Conditions presaged trouble when I entered Danny Kaye's penthouse apartment at CBS Television City.

The comedian was glowering at the other end of the sumptuous suite, and I quickly learned why. In his lap was a portable radio pouring forth news of another disaster for Kaye's beloved Los Angeles Dodgers.

"Well, see you later," I said, aware that a Kaye interview under the best of circumstances would be touch-and-go.

"Don't leave," he said, shutting off the radio sadly. Although the Cubs were whipping the Dodgers 7-3, he emphasized that his action did not concede defeat. Nor has he given up on the pennant race.

"I never give up until the last pitch of the last inning," he remarked steadfastly.

Kaye has two other major interests in his life: flying and television, not necessarily in that order. While his fellow television stars were out mining mints at state fairs and in summer theaters and night clubs, Danny "never worked harder in my life."

At what? Taking examinations for more advanced pilot ratings. He spoke glowingly of piloting a private jet to Portland in an hour and 40 minutes, "the same time it takes me to fly to San Francisco in my own plane."

Don't get the notion that Danny is any less interested in other ratings, say of television shows. At the start of his third season, he remains as avid as Catskill come, which he once was.

He blunted the reporter's questions by reversing the interview, a familiar Kaye plot. "How do you feel about TV, now that you're starting your third season?" he asked. "Is it different to be shooting in color this year?"

That out of the way, he settled down to some observations on his life in television.

"People said I was a nut, a perfectionist who would last six weeks in television and then go quietly mad because of the way you have to work in TV. But I'm not a perfectionist. Anyone who says that he is a perfectionist is claiming that what he tries to do is perfect work. Perfect in whose eyes? His own? The public's?"

"All I try to do is the best I can. When you put together a complete show in five days — the equivalent of two-thirds of a movie — you can't expect everything to be polished."

"Things can go wrong, but you can capitalize on them in TV, and that gives an added quality. Like last week when Harry Belafonte had a punch line that he couldn't get out. His difficulty was much funnier than the line would have been.

"We've had some great shows; last week's with Harry was one, I believe. We've had some good shows. Yes, we've had some poor shows, too.

"That was my biggest adjustment to TV: how to accept the poor shows. How did I do it? Merely by moving on to the next show and trying to profit by the bad one."

Most critics and a large segment of the audience seem to agree that his batting average is high. Now if the Dodgers could only do as well.

Princeton Seen
As 1965 Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — It is 96 years ago since Princeton and Rutgers invented what now is known as American football. The rivalry was intense then and will be again Saturday when these ancient foes meet. That's about the only thing that remains the same, everything else has changed including the probable winner.

Rutgers won that first game but this time Princeton is the pick, perhaps by the same margin as the Tigers' 10-7 triumph of a year ago. There's added interest this season because twin brothers are the rival captains. Paul Savidge is a guard and the Princeton leader, Pete Savidge, is a center and the Rutgers captain.

Other picks for the coming weekend:

Purdue over Notre Dame: The Big Ten Boiler-makers have burst previous Notre Dame bubbles and will do it again, drawing strength from the backing of the hometown crowd. Purdue will contain the speedy Nick Rascas.

Nebraska over Air Force: The Huskers have the better battery.

Texas over Texas Tech: But the losers' Donny Anderson will be the star of the game.

Michigan over California: The defending Rose Bowl champions still have plenty left.

Arkansas over Tulsa: Jon Brittenum has taken over as the Porker quarterback, the team's only major weak spot.

Louisiana State over Rice: The Texans will think they are being entertained by Hurricane Betsy.

Florida over Mississippi State: The Gators romped over Northwestern last Saturday.

Syracuse over Miami of Florida: Floyd Little was held in check last week. It can't be done two weeks in a row.

Kentucky over Mississippi: The home field gives the Wildcats a thin edge.

Georgia over Vanderbilt: The Georgia Bulldogs showed they could bite as well as growl in their amazing triumph over Alabama.

Iowa over Oregon State: Your television entertainment. The Coast Rose Bowl team lost 19 lettermen and it's coach.

Penn State over Michigan State: Two powerhouses. It should be close.

Minnesota over Washington State: The Gophers have found the quarterback they needed.

Ohio State over North Carolina: There are too many Ohioans.

Hagen Takes

Event Here

Thor Hagen was declared the winner of the feature event of the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion wrestling matches Tuesday night, when Bob Geigel, of Amarillo, Tex., was disqualified for the third fall, after Cowboy Bob Ellis jumped into the ring and insisted Geigel had used an illegal method to gain the pinning of Hagen's shoulders to the mat.

The crowd was with him, and Hagen was declared the winner. Hagen, who hails from Minneapolis, Minn., and Geigel were for 28 minutes before the first fall went to the Minnesota product, using a step-over reverse toe hold on Geigel. A knee drop and body press won the second fall for Geigel after nine minutes and 10 seconds. The final fall time was four minutes and 20 seconds.

When Ellis interfered, Geigel took a swing at the Cowboy, and jumped from the ring and started shouting over the loud-speaker about how tough he is and would like to meet Ellis in the ring now. Geigel climbed back into the ring as Ellis went around the floor after him, and before Ellis could get in Geigel had slugged Ellis several times, but as the Cowboy went through the ropes, Geigel took a hurried exit to the dressing room—much to the delight of the fans.

In a second main event, Sonny Myers pulled out of losing match after the first round to The Stomper and went ahead to win the two final falls. A reverse Boston crab won for The Stomper in the first fall period in 20 minutes and 20 seconds. Myers came back to capture the second in seven minutes and 20 seconds using his famed sleeper hold. In the third period Stomper was unable to rise after five seconds of the time had passed and Myers was the winner.

A new comer to the local ring, Paul Carson, 221 pounder from Boston, Mass., lost two straight falls to Cowboy Bob Ellis of San Antonio, Tex., the first fall going three minutes and 55 seconds, with the winner using a reverse Boston crab hold, and the second time was two minutes and 40 seconds when Ellis applied his famous bulldog drop. There is little doubt that Ellis gained friends Tuesday night as he defended his friend when Geigel tried to "slip one over" to win the event. When the two were broken up and Hagen got to his feet, he quickly reversed things and bounced Geigel on the mat for a three-count, but the referee had already awarded the fall to Hagen on a disqualification.

Smith-Cotton Tigers Ready
For '65 Conference Opener

Sedalia's undefeated Smith-Cotton Tigers open their 1965 bid for the Central Missouri Conference when they go against Rolla's Bulldogs at Jenny-Jaynes stadium this Friday.

The Bengals, who went without a victory in conference last year, are anxious for a victory in the CEMO opener, but it won't be an easy thing to do. The last two times Sedalia and Rolla met, Sedalia returned to the locker room holding the short end of the score. In 1964, S-C finished trailing 20-19, and in 1963, 20-7.

Rolla, 2-0 thus far this season, presents a stronger squad this year, S-C pilot Dick Rees feels. Rolla has defeated Lebanon, 18-0, and Waynesville, 19-12, this year. It puts the Bengals in the role of would-be spoilers.

Rolla fields some top men, Rees said Tuesday night. Among them are Lee Miller, an end, Dennis Wilson, center, and tackles Jim Jensen and Bill Murphy.

However, the man who could do S-C the most damage is David Kitchen, a 145-pound half-back who makes up for his lack of weight by good speed.

Smith-Cotton has been fortunate because there have been no injuries of any major sort in the first two encounters of 1965. Rees expressed his pleasure at the performance of both defensive and offensive squads in the Fulton contest last week, which Smith-Cotton won, 13-6.

The head coach said he feels that Smith-Cotton's line will get another test this week. S-C's line is heavier than Rolla's, but the local school's backs are lighter, Rees stated.

Rolla, Rees said, combines Marshall's strength and Fulton's speed. From that comes Smith-Cotton's biggest challenge this week.

In the Tigers' last outing, Bill Herrick and Russel Cusick grabbed the spotlight with their touchdown-gaining drives. Herrick plunged through the middle for one TD and Cusick duplicated that performance midway through the fourth quarter for the other. Sedalia's lone conversion was made by Herrick, after the Bengals had been penalized five yards.

Rees said there would be no major changes made in the Smith-Cotton line-up for the Rolla contest this Friday. Game time is 8 p.m.

Versatile Talent Pays Off

Drysdale's Arm And Bat
Help Keep Dodgers Alive

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Drysdale — good-hitting pitcher, or good-pitching hitter? Take your pick. He's helping keep the Los Angeles Dodgers afloat in the National League race with both his arm and his bat.

Drysdale's versatile performance Tuesday night was typical. The tall right-hander recorded his 21st pitching victory of the season with a six-hitter, drove in the clinching run with a single, and helped build an insurance run with another single.

Result: The Dodgers' fifth straight victory, 3-1 over Milwaukee, and a notch upward in pennant scramble.

Second-place Los Angeles now is three games back of the San Francisco Giants, who were trimmed 7-4 by Cincinnati after an error by first baseman Willie McCovey opened the way for four unearned runs.

Drysdale's two hits raised his batting average to .298, highest for the Dodgers, while his third straight victory raised his pitching record to 21-12. The lone Milwaukee run, in the fourth inning after an error by Maury Wills, was unearned — giving the Dodgers pitching staff the remarkable distinction of allowing just one earned run in 45 innings covering the club's five-game winning string.

In other NL action — Jim Pagarioni's two-run homer with two out in the last of the ninth lifted the Pittsburgh Pirates to their fifth straight victory, 6-5 over the New York Mets; Ron Santo rapped two homers and drove in six runs as the Chicago Cubs beat Philadelphia 7-5; and St. Louis blanked Houston 3-0.

The Giants, who had won 17 of their last 18 games, went into the sixth inning at Cincinnati with a 4-1 lead — but came out of it trailing 7-4.

Two Red runs were in, two were out and bases were loaded when Tommy Harper sent a grounder to McCovey. The big first baseman bobbled it, enabling another run to score. Then Pete Rose's single made it 5-4, and Vada Pinson capped the rally with his second hit of the inning — a two-run single.

Frank Robinson hit his 30th homer for the Reds, and Jim Davenport homered with two on for the Giants.

Bill Mazeroski kept the Pirates alive against the Mets with a one-out single in the ninth. Then, after reliever Dave Eilers fanned Willie Stargell, Pagarioni tagged his game-winning homer.

Santo socked his 30th homer, with two aboard, in the first inning, singled across a run in the third, and broke a 5-5 tie in the eighth when he hit his 31st homer, with one on. Ernie Banks accounted for the other Cub run against the Phils with his 26th homer, in the first inning.

Ray Sadecki and Hal Woodeshick combined for a five-hitter in the Cardinals' shutout of the Astros. Sadecki, who doubled in one St. Louis run left with one out in the ninth after walking two men. Woodeshick gave up another walk, but Norman Miller then banged into a game-ending double play.

Twins Celebration
Suffers a Setback

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Minnesota Twins have shut down their sick bay for lack of patients, but a couple of their convalescents seem to need some occupational therapy.

Harmon Killebrew, Tony Oliva and Camilo Pascual, expected to be the Twins' slugging, hitting and pitching leaders this season, played together Tuesday for the first time since July 28.

Their combined efforts fell short, however, as Baltimore trimmed the Twins 6-4 in 10 innings and postponed their American League pennant-clinching celebration until at least Friday night.

Of the three, only Oliva appeared ready to take on the National League winners in the World Series without the aid of vitamin pills.

Back from a five-day bout with an injured right knee, Oliva rapped three hits, boosting his league-leading average to .320, seven points better than runner-up Carl Yastrzemski of Boston.

In other AL games Tuesday, Detroit defeated Chicago 6-2, New York whipped Cleveland 9-4, California defeated Boston 4-0 and Washington edged Kansas City 4-3.

Minnesota scored two runs in the eighth for a 2-2 tie, but Baltimore pulled it out with two runs in the 10th, the first coming on Luis Aparicio's two-out single and the other on Mel N son's bases-loaded walk to Boog Powell.

Detroit reduced Chicago's pennant chances to only a tie, erupting for five unearned runs in the third inning after pitcher Joe Horlen missed Ray Oyler's sacrifice bunt. Gates Brown climaxed the outburst with his first major league grand slam homer.

The Yankees' Horace Clarke recorded his first grand slam — it also was his first homer in the majors — and helped Mel Stottlemyre gain his 19th victory against eight defeats. Clarke connected against Cleveland's Floyd Weaver in the fourth.

Fred Newman tossed a five-hitter at Boston, evening his record at 14-14. Dick Simpson highlighted California's three-run first inning with a two-run single.

Jim King and Jim French each hit a homer and drove in two runs for Washington. Jim Duckworth held Kansas City to one hit — Ken Harrelson's homer — through seven innings, but he needed relief help when the Athletics rallied for two runs in the eighth.

Bobby Bragan
Will Return To Braves' Helm

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Controversial Bobby Bragan has apparently survived a bitter and disappointing final season in Milwaukee and will be back at the helm of the Braves next year in Atlanta.

"I have every reason to feel confident about 1966," said Bragan, whose Braves fell out of the National League pennant race in the past two weeks. "I'm not worried."

"I've always enjoyed a very fine association with the Braves, specifically with John McHale (the president)."

Bragan, fired from earlier managerial jobs at Pittsburgh and Cleveland, has never finished higher than fifth, the Braves' current spot in the standings.

Bragan's 1965 team appeared a prime contender for the pennant after reeling off 10 straight wins in July. The Braves twice

"BIG FRONT" — The big front line of the Smith-Cotton varsity is ready to take the field here Friday in the Bengals' conference opener against Rolla. Pictured, in the bottom row, left to right, are: Mike Wells, right guard; Ron Rees, center; Bill Herrick, left guard. Top row, left to right, Jim Levellen, right tackle, Jim Vinson, right end, Joe Lamy, left end, Fred Kelly, left tackle. The two "jokers" in the back are Steve Long and Jim Arnest, fullback and right guard. Technically, in a picture of linemen, those two weren't really supposed to be there.

BACKFIELD — The Tiger varsity backfield consists of Jim Arnest, halfback, Steve Long, fullback, Mike McEver, halfback, and Buddy Cusick, quarterback. All are seniors and will see action in this week's contest against Rolla, which will be played here.

Lineman Honors For Maggiore

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ernest Maggiore was better than perfect against Texas A&M Saturday. As a result the defensive end for Louisiana State was named the Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press today.

The senior 22-year-old veteran from Norco, La., helped the Tigers, seventh ranked in this week's Associated Press college football poll, to a 10-0 victory by blocking a Texas A&M punt and falling on the ball in the end zone for a touchdown.

Charlie McClendon, LSU coach, praised Maggiore after the game. He was even more enthusiastic after viewing motion pictures of the game.

"He didn't miss a single assignment," McClendon said of the 5-foot-11, 215-pounder. "He made every stop he was supposed to make and some that other players were supposed to make."

Under the McClendon system of grading players, Maggiore thus was better than 100 per cent since he made stops that had been assigned to other players.

George Patton, junior tackle for Georgia, was high up in the voting by sports writers and broadcasters. He helped the Bulldogs upset Alabama 18-17 with a 55-yard touchdown return of an intercepted pass. Vince Dooley, Georgia coach, called the 210-pounder the top defensive player of the game.

Lloyd Is Named Defensive Man Of The Week

NEW YORK (AP) — If Charley Johnson still has a feeling he is being followed, blame it on Dave Lloyd, the persistent middle linebacker of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Lloyd, an important member of the Eagles' blitzing defense that threw the St. Louis quarterback six times for losses of 58 yards has been named the defensive player of the week in the National Football League by The Associated Press. Philadelphia upset St. Louis 34-27.

"Johnson will be looking at those movies again and again trying to figure out what Lloyd was doing to him," said Joe Kuharich, the Eagles' coach.

The 248-pound former Georgia star who lost 10 pounds in the 94-degree heat at Franklin Field said the Eagles overshifted with the tackles head up on the Cardinal center, leaving only the fullback between him and Johnson.

"I was able to get a running start," said Lloyd, formerly with Cleveland and Detroit before he moved to Philadelphia in 1963.

Elliott Is Near One Mile Mark

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Larry Elliott, the little man with a big heart at Oklahoma State, became the first Big Eight player ever to gain more than 1,000 career yards in kickoff returns. He made it against Arkansas.

With a 156-yard day against the fifth-ranked Razorbacks, the 5-foot-7, 155-pound Elliott is now just 206 yards shy of becoming the first league player to gain one mile in all kick returns.

He brought his career kickoff return total to 1,074 for 45 returns and his career punt return figure to 480 on 26 returns. His big play was a 69-yard return at Arkansas. It set up a touchdown.

Two big Arkansas linemen hovered over the ball, intending to down it, but Elliott scooped it up and dashed between them as they made a swipe at him and collided. Near midfield another Arkansas player hit him hard, but Elliott flipped, landed on his feet—minus one shoe — and continued another 15 or 20 yards before he was finally stopped.

Walt Garrison, OSU fullback, said "it makes a lot of difference just having him in there." Quarterback Glenn Baxter said "we see what Larry does and it

Canadian Peace Corps Developing

TORONTO (AP)—Canada's version of the Peace Corps, started four years ago, has 318 volunteers in 22 countries of Asia, Africa and South America. Called the Canadian University Service Overseas—CUSO—the privately administered organization hopes eventually to have 1,000 young people working in developing countries. Until this year, CUSO has relied almost totally on private sources for its finances. The Canadian government gave $500,000 toward the project this year to supplement $250,000 already raised.

The government indicated it will continue to contribute to CUSO despite the fact that it is planning a similar organization of its own, called the Company of Young Canadians. "I'm sure we will be putting 500 workers a year into the field within a year or two," says

Cuso's secretary, William McWhinney. "On a two-year assignment basis, that will give us 1,000 before very long." Interested candidates are screened first by volunteer committees at 33 Canadian universities and then put through a final examination by a national committee at CUSO headquarters in Ottawa. Those accepted—208 out of more than 300 this year—undergo extensive training first in Canada and then in the country of destination. The stress is on language, although this year's orientation program includes a seminar in community development. Recipient countries pay the salaries of volunteers on a local equivalent basis and have the final say in accepting a volunteer for any specific assignment. The failure rate is less than 5 per cent. CUSO pays the bill for orientation, transportation, insurance, some allowances and central administration. McWhinney says it works out to $2,500 to $3,000 per volunteer, compared with the $18,000-a-member cost of the U.S. Peace Corps. CUSO volunteers include social workers in Sarawak, mechanical engineers in Kenya, town planners in Tanzania, lab technicians in Jamaica and geologists in Ecuador.
